

Boys Development Project consultant

Simon Forrest is currently working in the School of Medicine and Health at Durham University. He is also a consultant to Working With Men and a trustee of AVERT (The AIDS Education and Research Trust). He has previously been Director of the Sex Education Forum, a Research Fellow in the Department of Sexually Transmitted Diseases at University College London and a senior lecturer at St George's Hospital Medical School where he now holds an honorary post. He was also a visiting Fellow in to the Institute of Education in the University of London between 1997 and 2002. He has been involved in a wide range of research and evaluation projects with a focus on young people, sex, sexuality and gender. He was worked in higher education for around fifteen years and, before that, in health promotion, youth work and teaching in secondary and further education. Simon has a special interest in gender, sex and sexuality and young people and undertaking small scale evaluations of work with boys, young men and young fathers. He has written, taught and advised policy-makers and practitioners on these issues.

Some of Simon's recent writing includes the following:
Young Men in Love: the (re)making of heterosexual masculinities through 'serious' relationships, Sexual Relationships Therapy, May (forthcoming)
Sex education that works, with A Kanabus in L Firth (ed.) Sexual Health Issues Vol. 173 pp 31-34, Cambridge: Independence Publishing (2009)
Co- responsibility: Developing local action to promote the role of men and fathers in the reconciliation of work and private life: The experiences of fathers in a new Town in the UK in P Gaborit (ed.) Fathers and Reconciliation, Brussels: European New Towns Project (2007)
Difference and diversity as determinants of health, with T Nash in Debell and Jackson (eds) Public Health and the School Age Population, London: Hodder Arnold (2007)
The making of sexualities: sexuality, identity and equality, with V Ellis in M Cole (ed) Education, Equality and Human Rights: issues of gender, 'race', sexuality and social class, second edition, London: Routledge (2006)

Straight talking: challenges in teaching and learning about sexuality and homophobia in schools, in M Cole (ed) Education, Equality and Human Rights: issues of gender, 'race', sexuality and social class, second edition, London: Routledge (2006)

The RIPPLE Study Team with V Strange, A Oakley, J Stephenson – Sex and relationship education for 13-16 year olds: evidence from England Sex Education, 6(1) 31-46 (2006)

Participation and working with Boys and Young Men: Guidance for practitioners and policy development Working With Men (2006)

A needs assessment in South Wales schools for a novel medical student-led sex education programme with C Twine, IJ Robbé and S Davies in Sex Education, 5(2): 137- 153 (2005)

An Evaluation of The Dad Project: Part of the Springboard initiative at the Cherry Orchard Family Support Project, London: Working With Men (2006)

A mapping exercise and review of sexual health services, education and support for boys, young men and young fathers in Camden & Islington, London: Working With Men (2005)

'They treated us like one of them really': peer education as an approach to sexual health promotion with young people, in E Burtney and M Duffy (eds) Young people and sexual health: Individual, social and policy contexts London: Palgrave Macmillan (2004)

A review of work on sexual health, teenage pregnancy and parenthood with boys and young men in Sheffield on behalf of the Sheffield Teenage Pregnancy Partnership Board, London: Working With Men (2004)

Sex and Relationships Education for boys and young men: A briefing for the Ukrainian Government, London: Working With Men (with N Davidson and L Neil 2004)

With JM Stephenson, V Strange, A Oakley, A Copas, E Allen, A Babiker, S Black, M Ali, H Monteiro, AM Johnson, and the RIPPLE study team – Pupil-led sex education in England: cluster-randomised intervention trial, The

Lancet, 364 (9421): 338-346 (2004)
The implications for research, in S Blake (ed) Young Gay Men Talking: Key issues and ideas for action. London: Working With Men (2003)
With CP Bonell, VJ Strange, JM Stephenson, AR Oakley, AJ Copas, AM Johnson and S Black – Effect of social exclusion on the risk of teenage pregnancy: development of hypotheses using baseline data from a randomised trial of sex education, Journal of Epidemiology and Community Health 57:871–876 (2003)
With V Strange, A Oakley, and the RIPPLE team – A comparison of student evaluations of a peer-delivered sex education programme and teacher-led programme, Sex Education, 2(3) 195-214 (2002)
With V Strange, A Oakley and the RIPPLE team – Peer-led Sex Education – characteristics of peer educators and their perceptions of the impact on them of participation in a peer education programme, Health Education Research 17(3) 327-337 (2002)
With A Crosier, J Goodrich, D McVey, and C Dennison – Involving young people in peer education: a guide to establishing sex and relationships peer education projects. London: Department of Health (2002)
With T Lloyd and N Davidson Boys' and Young Men's Health: literature review: an interim report. London: Health Development Agency (2001)
'Big and Tough': Boys learning about sexuality and manhood, Sexual Relationships Therapy 15 (3) pp 247-261 (2000)
'It's about girls really': Boys' participation in school-based sex education in Health Education Authority (ed) Changing Communities: Changing Lives. London: Health Education Authority (2000)

A detailed description of Simon's recent publications with many live links can be found at www.durham.ac.uk/ADD

Simon Forrest simon.forrest@durham.ac.uk